Who's Who in Berrien County Jail

Three people found themselves on the wrong side of the law and are currently sitting in jail, waiting for the Berrien County Sheriff to process their case. Cecil Allen, Betta Heisiman, and Miller Frankovich will be called before a judge soon to account for their alleged crime.

Using the clues below, can you match each person with their profession, where they are from, and what they have been arrested for?

- Ms. Cecil has always lived in Michigan, but this is Mr. Miller's first time here
- Ms. Betta refuses to answer questions, so there isn't a lot of information in her files, including her job
- Mr. Miller only rents rooms in boarding houses, he's never owned a home
- The person who ran away did so from Indiana while the housekeeper did not rob the bank.
- Mr. Miller's profession is known to officers
- Ms. Betta's mom is very worried about her and can't wait for her to be returned home.

How to Play:

- Read through the puzzle clues carefully and mark an O (for yes) or an X (for no) for the most obvious answers
- Next use logic to fill in the rest of the puzzle
- Once filled, then fill in the answer to the right and check your answers in the back!

Silly Michigan Law:

On Sundays, a man isn't allowed to scowl at his wife in Detroit

Clumsy Crime Mix up!

Oh no! The clumsy clerk at the Berrien County Sheriff's Department dropped the files of five prisoners who are waiting to be processed and their papers are everywhere! But the judge won't wait much longer and now the clerk needs your help to put things back together again.

Using the clues below, can you match the person to their information and their crime?

- Mr. John doesn't know anything about planting seeds, but the Italian does!
- The violator of school law is an immigrant
- The holdup was here in Berrien County
- John is the only local currently sitting in jail
- The bail jumper will be sent back to Indiana
- Alonzo did not get arrested for the holdup but he was arrested in a car
- Joiu won't stay long in Berrien County, he will be sent south to serve time for his crime.
- Joe likes playing in the dirt

How to Play:

- Read through each of the clues and connect the obvious answers
- Next use logic to fill in the rest of the puzzle by drawing lines between each column
- Once filled, then fill in the answer to the right and check your answers in the back!

He's on the Lam!

All points bulletin! All points bulletin! Escaped convict Frank Plavo is on the lam and terrorizing the good people of Berrien County! We're asking the public's help to capture him.

Eyewitness reports about where he is are coming through that we've narrowed it down to three possible locations: St. Joseph, New Buffalo, and Coloma. But the information is jumbled and the Sheriff can't make sense of it all.

Can you follow the path to find Frank and bring him back to the jail?

Silly Michigan Law:

You can't sell someone a car on Sundays.

Your pig cannot run around the streets of Detroit unless it has a ring in its nose.

You cannot throw out old hoop skirts onto the streets or sidewalks in Grand Haven.

The police have to inspect all swimsuits in Rochester.

Darn it! That old pen the clerk was using wasn't very good and now your notes in the case files you're reviewing are missing letters. The only way you can complete the review and send it to the judge is if you fill in the blanks yourself.

I've got the Answers

Who's Who in Berrien County Jail

Name	Profession	From	Crime
Cecil Allen	Housekeeper	Buchanan	Disorderly House
Betta Heisiman	N/A	Indiana	Runaway
Miller Frankovich	Machinist	Montana	Bank Robber

Clue 1 says that Cecil has never left Michigan, so she must be from Buchanan

Clue 2 says that the police don't know Betta's job, so she's N/A

Clue 3 says that Miller only rents rooms, so he can't be a housekeeper, so along with Clue 2, that leaves Cecil as the Housekeeper and that leaves Miller as the Machinist

Clue 4 says the housekeeper didn't rob the bank and the person from Indiana ran away, so Cecil was arrested for a Disorderly House

Clue 5 says that Betta's mom is worried about her and wants her returned, so that means Betta is the runaway and is from Indiana (Clue 4), meaning that Miller is from Montana and robbed the bank.

Clumsy Crime Mix-up

Name	Profession	From	Crime
Joiu Scheifeustein	Laborer	Indiana	Jumping Bail
Joe Attardo	Farmer	Italy	Violating School Law
Alonzo Miller	Laborer	Illinois	Auto Theft
John Goine	Laborer	Eau Claire	Hold up

Clue 1 says the Italian knows about planting seeds, meaning he is the farmer and that John is a laborer.

Clue 2 says the violator of the school law is an immigrant, meaning the Italian is the culprit

Clue 3 says the holdup was here, so that means it happened in Eau Claire

Clue 4 says that John is the only local sitting in Jail, so that means John is a laborer who is from Eau Claire and did the hold up

Clue 5 says the bail jumper is from Indiana and by process of elimination is one of the other two laborers

Clue 7 says that Joiu is being sent south to do his time, making him from Indiana and thus the bail jumper

Clue 8 says Joe likes playing in the dirt, so he's our Italian law violator, thus making Alonzo our auto thief.

He's on the Lam!

Frank is in New Buffalo

I'm Blank on the Information

William Johnson from Leun is a laborer charged with Felonious assault

Eugene Bechtold from Chicago is a clerk charged with Criminal Syndication (Mafia/Mob connections)

Wavel Weldon from Indiana is on site as a witness to a crime
